

Book donation policy:

The LHSQ library is always pleased to receive book donations. However, if you are willing to give us books, please note that:

- The library will not accept encyclopedias, unless they are very recent (published within the last two years)
- Donations of ten (10) books or less should rather be made on week days, from Tuesday to Friday, during the library opening hours. For larger donations, please contact us before and provide us with a list of the books you want to give. This list can be e-mailed to lhsqlibrary@morrin.org.
- The books you donate will not necessarily be integrated in our collection. If the book is not in good shape enough, if we already own it, or if its subject is not compatible with our library, the LHSQ library staff reserves the right to give your book to a charitable organisation or to sell it in order to raise funds for the Morrin Center. However, you can be sure that no books will be thrown away.

Thank you for your consideration,
The LHSQ library staff
